This cause came to be heard on the regular docket before the Claims Commission for the State of Tennessee, Eastern Division, before the Honorable Commissioner William Shults, upon Bellsouth's claim for damages to its underground utility facilities, the State's answer, eyewitness testimony from the State and the testimony of claimant, exhibits from both parties, arguments of Counsel, and the entire record from all of which the Commissioner finds as follows:

1. That jurisdiction is appropriate pursuant to T.C.A. Section 9-8-307 Subsections I or M;
2. that the State of Tennessee and its Department of Transportation failed to comply with the requirements of Underground Utility Damage Prevention Act, T.C.A. 65-31-101 et. seq. in failing to request the location of buried utility facilities prior to commencing its excavations;
3. that the work performed by the State was not an emergency excusing its compliance with the Underground Utility Damage Prevention Act;

4. that it was foreseeable given the location of the sink hole that utility facilities could be buried in the State right of way;

5. that in assessing the damages claimed by BellSouth, the Commissioner finds that the amount of actual damages are $7,241.69 and not the $9,636.47 claimed by BellSouth;

6. that the difference in the amount claimed versus the amount awarded is attributable to the overheads added to the contractor charges and loss of profit. Specifically, the Commissioner finds that the overhead charges associated with the contractor charges are not a reasonable expense associated with the repair of the damaged facilities and the fact that BellSouth had a redundant systems in place precludes its claim for lost profits;

8. Accordingly, it is hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that the Claimant, BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc. recover a judgment against the State of Tennessee in the amount of $7,241.69.

IT IS SO ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED.
